Having been appointed agent for the above Company, I respectfully call the attention of the citizens of this section of North Carolina, to the fact that this is a Southern Company with an authorized Capital of $500,000. It's business is ably conducted, by influential, reliable and wealthy citizens of Tennessee.

It has the finest references, and has always been exceedingly prompt in its payments, as can be shown by its records, being sustained by wealthy gentlemen.

It takes both Life and Fire risks on terms as low as any Eastern Company.

This Company is just being introduced into its sister State and I hope it will be well patronized.

Let us support and encourage each other and keep all our money at home.

THE SENTINEL.

Friday, January 4, 1867.

Important (if true) from Washington.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Gazette.

WASHINGTON, January 1.—I have it upon undoubted authority that Senator Fessenden has, within a day or two, emphatically declared his opposition to all schemes having in view an attempted forcible disorganization of the present State Governments in the unrepresented States. The utmost extent to which he will go, when the adoption of the constitutional amendment shall have been shown to be impossible, will be to give his assent to an act of Congress, proposing a plan to those States, by which, if adopted by them, their interrupted relations to the Federal Government may be fully re-established. It is understood that these views, which utterly discard the idea of territorializing those States, are concurred in by Senators Foster, Sherman, Cragin, Fogg, and perhaps others.

By the way, how is it that Gov. Vance was not killed in battle?—Standard.

He who can change the course of the cannon ball, and melt the leaden bullet ere it passes the muzzle of the gun, stretched forth His mighty hand, and protected the gallant Vance from the storm of battle, and made him the instrument in saving the Standard office from destruction, and its editor, perhaps, from the fury of an insulted and enraged soldiery. Base ingratitude! If there is a drop of red blood left in your veins, let those cheeks crimson for shame, when you remember the call made upon the President to offer a reward of $25,000 for the arrest of your deliverer!

VANCE yet liveth. His fellow citizens love and respect him! crowds gather around him wherever he goes, to do him honor. He fought bravely, but, defeated, he surrendered, and is not now afraid to appear upon the balcony of a public hotel, in a large city, and talk with Northern men as well as Southern men, about the war,—and to declare to them that he is "pleased to know that the two sections are again coming together as friends." We admire the man—all classes join to greet him.—Goldsboro' News.

Gen. G. C. Robinson, at present in command of the Department of the South, in a general order dated December 22d, announces that on the 19th of the same month the President ordered the revocation of the paragraphs of the famous order issued by General Sickles on the 1st of October last, which are herewith given:

V. Corporal punishment shall not be inflicted upon any person other than a minor, and then only by the parent, guardian, teacher, or one to whom said minor is lawfully bound by indenture of apprenticeship. Nor shall any person be sold to service as a punishment for crime or for other cause by any authority whatever.

VI. The laws of the States respectively in this department, defining and punishing vagrancy, applicable to white persons, may be enforced against all persons; nevertheless, no one who shall have used reasonable diligence to obtain employment, or who shall be unable to work by reason of infirmity, shall be deemed a vagrant.

North Carolina and Holden.

Holden has returned from Washington rejoicing, and sounds his jubilations through his paper. He exultingly avows himself the author of the bill presented by Mr. Stevens for destroying his State government, and organizing it on a basis designed to put himself in power.

To secure this latter end, he scruples not to belie his State and people, and to pour shame upon his own record. The oath proposed by the bill he contrived with special reference to his own case. A violent war man in the beginning,—pledging "the last man and the last dollar" to the fight,—he claims to have turned traitor to his cause in 1864, and to have contributed thenceforth what he dared to its defeat. The oath, accordingly, is a sort of slipgap for passing those who will swear that after 1864 they wished defeat to the cause which they still pretended to favor,—who will swear that from 1864, they were both deserters and hypocrites. It is thus that Holden expects to proscribe all honorable men, and secure the field to himself, and so to get to be Governor again.

This knavery of the man is certainly not to be reproached with a deficiency either of hardihood or cunning: But "the best laid schemes of mice and men gang oft aglee." Holden's patent will not work. The Supreme Court has exhibited an unexpected spirit and purity, and is suddenly a power in the land. Congress may pass a bill with Holden in it, but the Supreme Court will pronounce it null. It will not be possible to fix up a revolutionary or territorializing bill, that will hold water. North Carolina is not to be deprived of her organization by Congressional violence, and Holden will make nothing by his treachery, at if disappointed of his promotion, he may felicitate himself that there is one evil against which he is entirely secure. He will have made himself more odious, but not more infamous,—for he had already sounded the very lowest depths.

THE LOYAL ALONE SHALL GOVERN.—Traitors and hypocrites must take back seats, and in doing so should thank their stars that they are permitted to remain in a country which they have ruined by their ambition and selfishness.—Standard.

That is just what the people intend—"the loyal alone shall govern." But for your stupidity, you would have known this without waiting to be told a second time.

Being both "traitor and hypocrite," you will be made to take a "back seat," and ponder over the ruin and desolation which your secession teachings have brought upon this country.—Drop your eyes, and cover your mouth—"the loyal alone shall govern."—Goldsboro' News.

We learn that a negro was shot near Enfield, by Mr. John Branch, of this county. The facts as related to us, are, that the negro purchased a gun on Saturday, and tested its powers by killing some of Mr. Branch's cattle. On Monday, Mr. Branch, taking his gun with him, went to the negro's house and asked him about killing the cattle. The negro denied having done so, and told Branch that if he came there to shoot, he could do as much as he could; and entering the house, got his gun, and was in the act of leveling it at Mr. Branch, when Branch shot him, killing him almost instantly.—Weldon State.

THIS School will open the Second Monday in January, in the large and commodious buildings formerly occupied by Dr. Deems.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Friday Evening, Jan. 4, 1867.

More Developments.

We alluded, a few days since, to the fact that Memorials, under the auspices of Holden, were in circulation among the negroes of the State, praying Congress to enfranchise them and to disfranchise five-sixths of the white voters of the State of North Carolina. So far from this most atrocious proceeding being concealed, Holden, himself, in person, outrages public sentiment by appearing in a negro meeting and offering a resolution looking to the same infamous design. There has been nothing, heretofore, in the history of North Carolina, equal to this spectacle.—

We referred, at the same time, to one of the expedients that are being resorted to by the pimps of treason in the State, to inveigle the uninformed among the whites into signing the Memorial, and we invoked our friends in various portions of the State to communicate to us any facts that might come to their knowledge in connection with this general movement. A correspondent, accordingly, writes as follows from Lexington, Davidson Co.:

LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 2nd. 1866.

Editors of Raleigh Sentinel:—In response to your editorial on "Memorials to Congress," in which you beg your friends throughout the State to watch for these incendiary papers, and communicate any facts concerning them which may come to their knowledge, I have to reply that, while Holden was in Washington, a petition was drawn up by Wm. F. Henderson, Geo. Riley and Henderson Adams, of this town, asking, at the hands of Congress, "the subversion of the present State government, and the confiscation of the property of those in this State who had borne arms against the United States in the late war." This petition was handed to the writer of this, for his signature, when there were about thirty names already attached to it, the first of which were the names of the gentlemen (?) above named, and afterwards followed by the names of three of the worst negroes to be found in this County! The petition was sent to Holden, at Washington, and was no doubt presented as the petition of the loyal men (God save the mark!) of Davidson Co. N. C.

Hoping that you will give this an insertion, and thus show up these fellows to the deserved scorn of all honest, decent men,

I am, very truly, yours,
J. H.

Comment is unnecessary. At least, we confess our utter inability to do justice to the subject.

Attempt to Assassinate a Brigadier General.

BALTIMORE, January 1.—A private letter from Raleigh, N. C., gives the particulars of an attempt there, on the 13th ultimo, to assassinate Brevet Brigadier General Brady, of the Freedmen's Bureau, by a man who openly proclaimed his intention in the different drinking saloons of the town, saying he had come to have his revenge for the treatment he received during his imprisonment on charge of being a spy, alleging that the party to whom he alluded had treated him badly while a provost marshal.

The man called at the private residence of General Brady, and as he entered his room turned the key and seized Brady by the throat, drew a pistol, and avowed his purpose to murder him. A fearful struggle then ensued. Brady called for help, but his cries were unheard. Finally, the assassin said he perceived Brady was a Mason, and promised his intended victim, if he released his hand, in which he held the pistol, he would make no further attempt on his life. At this moment the pistol dropped on the floor, and the man, availing himself of the exhaustion of Brady, unlocked the door and escaped. The civil authorities of Raleigh, it is said, refused to take action in the matter, and the desperado is still at large.—Chronicle.

The Washington Chronicle, like the Standard, of this city, gulps down every rumor which can operate to the prejudice of the people and authorities of North Carolina. We do not know Gen. Brady nor his antagonist, but the charge of an attempt to assassinate Gen. Brady, we think, is doubtful.

We know nothing of the facts. Gen. Brady, we learn, was boarding, at the time, at a private house in this city. So far as we have heard, Gen. Brady and his alleged assailant are alone cognizant of what occurred between them. We have heard that a person, who owed Gen. Brady an old grudge, went to his room to chastise him; that the person, named Waterbury, as we learn, began the assault, but, on discovering that the General was a Mason, immediately desisted and hastily left his room. So much for what we have heard.

It is stated, upon the authority of a private letter from this city, that "the civil authorities of Raleigh, it is said, refused to take action in the matter, and the desperado is still at large." We have heard nothing of this, and we do not believe it. Col. W. H. Harrison is the Mayor of this city, and if the above statements have been made to him, and he refused to investigate the facts, it is the first instance we have heard of during his administration. No civil officer in North Carolina would have refused to act in such a case, whatever might have been his feelings towards the parties. Civil officers in North Carolina obey their oaths. Moreover, the Washington Chronicle is advised, if it wants any further evidence that the Mayor of this city did not refuse in this case, to call upon Gov. Holden, in whom it has implicit confidence, for information as to the efficiency of Col. Harrison as a civil officer. Gov. Holden is the brother-in-law of Col. Harrison, and, moreover, Col. Harrison claims to be, we understand, an unconditional Union man. Whether the Colonel can quite go unconditional negro suffrage, we are not advised. We do not believe that he can or will.

THE STANDARD used to be proud of publishing its Editor's speeches and poems,—particularly his agricultural speech at Fayetteville, his address to the young Ladies in Duplin, and his poem, "The Southern Cross." They have passed through several editions in that print.

Will it again gratify the public by publishing the two hours speech at the African Church on New Year's day?

Mr. Holden After March 4th, 1864.

"I, A. B., do solemnly swear, on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, that on the 4th. day of March, 1864, and at all times thereafter, I would willingly have complied with the requirements of the Proclamation of the President of the United States, issued on the 8th. day of December, 1863, had a safe opportunity of so doing been allowed; and that on the said 4th. of March, 1864, and all times thereafter, I was opposed to the continuance of the rebellion, and to the establishment of the so-called Confederate Government, and voluntarily gave no aid and comfort thereto, but earnestly desired the success of the Union and the suppression of all armed resistance to the Government of the United States; and that I will henceforth faithfully support the Constitution of the United States and the Union of the States thereunder."

This is the oath required to be taken by the Pool-Holden Bill, and also by the Stevens Bill, for the destruction of the government of North Carolina, in order to qualify men, white and black, to become voters or to be eligible to any civil office whatever, hereafter. Those who cannot, or will not, swallow it, are to be branded traitors, as condemned beasts are branded in the army, and are to remain branded and outlawed for five years after they shall have filed an application for naturalization, and, if they shall not elect to adopt such a process of citizenship, they are to be declared foreigners forever,—strangers and outcasts in the land of their nativity and their love.

We take it that, with the large majority of the blacks, there could be no difficulty in taking the oath. Eight out of ten, to whom it might be administered, would comprehend neither its obligation or significance. Besides, whatever aid they may have rendered the Confederate cause may be considered involuntary, as, in cases, for instance, of working on the fortifications, &c., they were hired out, for the purpose, by their owners. Still there are many decent, respectable, colored men who would scorn to touch the unclean thing.

Not much over five thousand of the white men of North Carolina can, or will, take such an oath. The co-author of the montrosity, himself—William W. Holden—cannot take it honestly.—We proceed to prove the fact, from quotations from his paper of a date subsequent to "the 4th. day of March, 1864." We give only a few extracts, to-day, premising that there are many more of the same sort, and even of a more decided character, to come:

[From the Standard of June 8, 1864.

"We now tell him, (Col. McRae, Editor of the Confederate newspaper,) and all the other mercenary supporters of Gov. Vance, that our skirts are as clear of treason as theirs can be, and that we are, and have been, truer to the South than they are or can be. Our devotion to the South is disinterested and patriotic," &c.

[From the Standard of June 15, 1864.

"We resisted secession with all our strength up to the proclamation of Lincoln; and since that time WE HAVE BEEN AS TRUE to the new GOVERNMENT as we were to the old. We have supported the war, paid our taxes cheerfully," &c.

I, A. B., do solemnly swear, &c., * * * that on the said 4th of March, 1864, and at ALL times thereafter, I * * * voluntarily gave no aid and comfort, &c.

On the 18th. of May, 1864, Capt. Holden (he was a Captain of the Militia) hears the first tidings of the fighting on the Rapidan. In the fulness of his heart he exclaims: "May the God of Battles give us the final victory in every quarter!" He adds:

"Speculation and conjecture at this time amount to little. The great and it may be final conflict is going forward in Virginia. We hope for the best. We know better troops than those fighting under the Southern flag never trod the earth. But the Northern troops fight well also, and they have numbers greater than ours. God only foresees the end. We pray the end may be fortunate for our section. We trust that the blood and treasure lavished by our people in this struggle may not be in vain, but that, at last, when the clouds lift and the blue sky is once more seen, the star of triumph may shine down brightly on OUR cause."

I, A. B., do solemnly swear, &c., * * * that on the said 4th of March, 1864, and at ALL times thereafter, I * * * earnestly desired the success of the Union and the suppression of all armed resistance to the government of the United States, &c.

[From the Standard of May 18, 1864.

"The Richmond Sentinel, of Saturday, contains an article devoted to the Standard, from which we make the following extract:

"In a very recent number the Standard has declared for peace on a lower basis than we are contending for; that is, it is in favor of re-union with our enemies, which implies submission to them."

There is not a word of truth in the above. We are not in favor of re-union with our enemies or of submission to them," &c.

[From the Standard of May 25, 1864.

"We may expect soon great battles near Richmond and Atlanta. The armies on both sides have been reinforced, and the conflict will be prolonged and terrible. The whole country looks with the deepest anxiety to the result, and every Southern man hopes that, in the end, our banners may be crowned with success. There is ground for hope. Our enemies are numerous, well provided and powerful, but we have the utmost confidence in Gens. Lee and Johnston and the glorious troops under their command. They will accomplish all that can be accomplished."

We shall send Thaddeus and Ben. Wade copies of the Sentinel, containing these and future elegant extracts.

Commission to Washington.

His Excellency, Gov. Worth, has appointed the following gentlemen a Commission to proceed to Washington and consult the authorities upon the subject of the U. S. Land TAX, &c., viz:

A. S. MERRIMON, of Buncombe,
JOHN A. GILMER, of Guilford.
JAS. M. LEACH, of Davidson.
P. H. WINSTON, of Bertie.
BEDFORD BROWN, of Caswell.

I understand Commissioner Wells has fairly earned the abuse of the protectionists by his very effective opposition to the ruinous schemes of the wool-growers and others of the high tariff faction.—Letter in Baltimore Gazette.

A Berlin telegram says the Washington Government has invited Pope Pius to America, where he can live more independent than in Europe.

Interesting Testimony Before the New Orleans Riot Committee.

NEW ORLEANS, December 30.—Mayor Monroe, after giving evidence before the committee regarding the riot, stated that at the outbreak of the war there was, in his opinion, but one Union man in New Orleans. This was Dr. Dostie, who left the city under Jeff. Davis' proclamation. He also stated that the first secession speeches he had heard were made by Governor Hahn and King Cutler, and that the most prominent States right man, and a leading spirit of the Southern Rights Association, was W. R. Fisher. These men are now the extreme Union men of the Brownlow clique.

Jacob Barker testified that in the event of a war with a foreign power the people of the South would stand by the government, and that the people were loyal and anxious for peace. In regard to the riot, he said that the people had nothing to do with it; that they felt very indignant at the proposition of reviving an extinct convention for the purpose of superseding the government in which they had acquiesced, and under which they were living peaceably; that the people, however, had all agreed to submit the affair to the decision of the courts, and believed that the proper steps had been taken with that view when the mob came upon them like a storm.

Lawlessness.

A state of lawlessness prevails in Greene, lower Pitt and the adjoining counties, almost startling in a civilized community. Murder, rape, arson, robbery, and almost every crime known in the catalogue, are committed in those sections almost every day. As a commentary on the demoralization of the times, men hitherto occupying the first positions in society are said to be implicated in the most of these crimes. Such a reign of terror exists, that eye witnesses are frequently deterred from making disclosures. Our friends in that section will confer a favor by furnishing us such items of interest relating to these outrages, as we can publish. We will not hesitate to expose any one who may be implicated.

It is somewhat remarkable that this state of affairs is confined exclusively to those sections of country, wherein the "unmistakably loyal" are the more numerous, showing conclusively the character and stuff of which these are made.

We would urge upon the State executive the propriety of procuring enough good United States troops to put down these organized gangs.—Wilson Carolinian.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Owing to the immense number of fraudulent claims presented in the Quartermaster General's office, General Meade will recommend to Congress the passage of an act providing three commissioners for each State, to hold their sessions within the State, and to require claimants to appear in person and establish their claims by oral testimony.

The reception at the President's to-day was attended by all the members of the diplomatic corps, members of the Cabinet, Judges of the Supreme Court, Senators and Representatives, and other officials at present in the city. Many of the ladies were most elegantly attired. Conspicuous among them was the wife of the Chilian Charge d' Affairs, who wore a splendid blue velvet dress with a long train borne by a small page in livery. The ladies of the household, Mrs. Stover and Patterson, were plainly dressed, but in exquisite taste. The scene in the Blue Room when the official reception was at its height was peculiarly striking—the mingle of epaulets, decorations, foreign orders and gay dresses forming a most beautiful cup d' œil.

But one negro—a bright mulatto, unknown here—presented himself at the President's levee to-day. He was quietly received and hurried himself away.

Pardoned Confederates.

WASHINGTON, January 1.—The list of the pardoned Confederates is completed and will be sent to the House Monday. It contains 295 names from the following States: Alabama, 33; Arkansas, 29; District of Columbia, 25; Florida, 8; Georgia, 18; Kentucky, 12; Louisiana, 21; Maryland, 3; Mississippi, 15; Missouri, 8; N. Carolina, 17; S. Carolina, 21; Tennessee, 15; Texas, 13; Virginia, 48; West Virginia, 9. This does not include the $20,000 pardons.

The Louisville Journal says it will be the duty of the President to oppose the supersedure of the Southern State governments by territorial organizations with the entire military and naval forces of the nation, and calls upon the people to sustain him in using the national forces.

The South Carolina Legislature has passed an act which makes seven per cent. the legal rate of interest, where no specific contract has been agreed upon, but allows any sum to be paid and received upon agreement. In other words, this is a repeal of the statutes against excessive usury.

MILITARY.—General Grant telegraphed to Richmond Monday, ordering the two regiments on duty in that city to repair immediately to Washington. General Schofield advised against the expediency of the order, and desires to retain at least one regiment in Richmond.

REFLECTIONS.—This is a new year. Are you any better off than you were on the first of January, 1866—or 1865? Will you be any better off next New Year's day? You are not—and you will not. You are now about what you have been—and will be about what you are now.

You may lay it down for a certain rule that you will never be satisfied in this life, and there is a strong probability that you will be much more dissatisfied in the next.—Charlottesville Chronicle.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.—The Washington Chronicle asks: "Does it pay England to hold Ireland merely by aid of bayonets and artillery?" A much more pertinent question for American editors to discuss is, Will it pay the United States to hold the South by the same tenure?—Baltimore Transcript.

It has been ascertained positively that the Committee on Banking and Currency will report to the House upon its re-assembling against any further increase of the currency beyond the amount already issued.—Tribune.

It is supposed that Roscoe Conkling will be elected United States Senator from New York. Also, that old Thad will beat Curtin in Pennsylvania, notwithstanding the latter's fierce denunciations of the Southern States as unfit to pass upon the constitutional amendment.

Ex-Governor Marvin, of Florida, says there is not the remotest prospect of Florida ever ratifying the constitutional amendments.

Application For Charter.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made to the General Assembly of North Carolina during its present session, for the incorporation of the town of Scotland Neck, situated in the lower part of Halifax County six miles from the Martin county line. MARRIED,

In Johnston County, on the 20th ult., by W. P. Bailford, Esq., Mr. LEVI COLE, of Orange County, to Miss SALLIE N. GUESS, of Johnston.

OBITUARY.

Died in Fayetteville, at the residence of Joseph A. Worth, Esq., on the 24th of December, 1866, MARY MARIETTA, youngest daughter of Gov. Worth, in the 21st year of her age.

We have rarely been called to chronicle an event in some respects more mysterious and painful. The subject of this brief notice had everything, in her personal character and the circumstances by which she was surrounded, to invest life with the bright hues of promise and hope.

The devoted child of loving parents the object of peculiar tenderness to a large circle of relatives and friends, she had known from infancy only the endearments of a delightful home, and the pleasures of reciprocal attachment. But her constitution, originally delicate, had been tried by several months of serious illness, which she endured with fortitude and calmness, sustained and cheered by an unfaltering trust in her covenant God and Savior.

Nearly two years before her death, she had made a public confession of her faith in Christ and supreme attachment to His person and service. That which gives divine consolation to her friends and parents, now, is the assurance of her readiness and willingness to die, to be absent from the body and present with the Lord. That bread of Heaven, the word of God, on which she fed during life, was doubtless her rod and staff in the dark valley and shadow of death.—The lessons taught us by this dispensation of Divine Providence are very many and very solemn.—the infinite value of the soul; the importance of piety in early youth; and the true source of consolation in the time of sorrow and in the hour of death.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See Court advertisement from Warren county.

James M. Towles is Agent for the sale, in this city, of Baugh's Raw Bone Super-Phosphate of Lime, invaluable as a fertilizer. Now is the season for our farmers to supply themselves, and they will do well to make prompt application to Mr. Towles.

Notice of application to the N. C. Railroad Company, for the issue of a duplicate certificate of stock, is filed by the estate of L. O. B. Branch, Dec'd.

Scott and Alfred, Barbers, Fayetteville Street, will give you a good shave. We speak from experience.

KILLED.—We learn that a man, by the name of Cooley, was run over by the Raleigh and Gaston train, last evening, about 6 o'clock, near, the Pigeon House, and killed. A Coroner's inquest on his remains was held this morning. We have heard no particulars, but it is supposed that the unfortunate man was lying asleep on the track, probably in a state of intoxication.

LAST NIGHT was an awful one to those who were compelled to be exposed. Snow, rain, sleet and hail fell uninterruptedly for hours. Taken altogether, it was the severest storm experienced in this latitude for years. This morning the ground was covered with a thick and hard crust, to the depth of several inches, and the trees garnished with a frost-work of silver, which, reflecting the rays of a bright sun, presented a rare and gorgeous spectacle. The fine poem on our first page, forwarded to us by a lady correspondent, describes the glorious winter-beauty in exquisite measure.

Sleighing is all the rage to-day, and the merry jingling of the bells rings out upon the crisp and resonant air in every direction.

OUTRAGE IN FRANKLIN.—Some miscreant set fire to Mr. Henry Pearce's barn, near Franklinton, on the night of the 28th. ult., and burned to death three horses and nine cows, besides destroying all his fodder, oats, peas and farming utensils. His loss is about $2,500.

The object of the incendiary was not plunder, as nothing was taken from the barn. We learn that no clue has been obtained as to the perpetrator of the deed, and it is probable that the diabolical affair will always be shrouded in mystery.

MURRAY'S N. C. STEAMSHIP LINE.—We again call attention to the announcement of this line between New York and Newbern, and the great reduction in freights. Vessels leave each port every Saturday, and applications for freight or passage to New York should be made to Messrs. Whitfold, Dill & Co., No. 5, Craven Street, Newbern. Shippers will find this an expeditious and economical route; and Messrs. Whitford, Dill & Co. require no endorsement at our hands for reliability, energy and promptness.

DR. GARDNER.—We have received a private letter from Dr. Gardner, requesting us to discontinue his advertisement, as he cannot possibly visit this city earlier than next Spring.

WILMINGTON DIRECTORY.—We take pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of "Bernard's Wilmington and Fayetteville Directory for 1866-'67," compiled and published by W. H. Bernard, of Wilmington. Like all other works sent from his office, this book is unexceptionable in style and finish. It gives the names, residence and occupation of all the principal inhabitants of the two places, with copious advertisements of their business men. It is at the same time a valuable hand-book of useful information.

It is for sale by the publisher in Wilmington.

WE HAVE received no Newbern papers for several days. The Goldsboro' News learns that the Tournament came off according to programe. It says:

"We heard that Mr. Smith of Newbern won the crown; he crowned Miss Carrie M'Lacklan, of the same place. Messrs. Tyson and Pate, of Wilson, won two of the honors. The saddle was given to Mr. J. M. Rullison, but it is said that Mr. Washington won it."

A Grammar of the Latin Language; for the use of schools. With Exercises and Vocabularies. By WILLIAM BINGHAM, A. M., Superintendent of the Bingham School. Philadelphia: Published by E. H. Butler & Co. Raleigh, N. C.: William B. Smith & Co. 1867.

This is the second edition of this grammar. The letter-press is unexceptionable. It is intended to be "a practical first book in Latin, suited to the capacity of beginners, and yet full enough for a book of reference throughout a course of preparation for College." The author is not a mere compiler. He evidently has his own notions. While others are trying to make everything easy, he purposely omits the gender of nouns in his vocabularies "to compel the pupil to apply the rules." Accent and quantity are indicated clearly throughout the book. The student is left to his own choice as to pronunciation; but as the paradigms are syllabicated with reference to the English method, it is to be inferred that the author is quoad hoc an "old fogy." As to the book itself, it seems to us to be a capital one—worthy of general adoption in the schools of the South. It is a Southern book.—Richmond Dispatch.

Our Friday Morning Dispatches.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3, P. M.

Mr. Bundy, of Iowa, introduced, to-day, the following joint Resolution, for the establishment of four territorial governments within the "so-called State of Texas:"

"Whereas, by joint resolution approved March 1, 1845, that District, heretofore known as the State of Texas, was admitted into the Union, and wrongfully permitted to retain, in her own right as to the said State, all unsettled lands within the limits of the entire territory thereof, consisting of ——— square miles, which were acquired by the common treasure, sacrifice and blood of the people of the whole Union; and

Whereas, the people inhabiting said territory and occupying said lands joined the inhabitants of other insurrectionary districts in waging war against the people and government of the United States, destroying the practical relations of said State of Texas with the government of the United States, to the extent that all territorial rights and possessions, appertaining to or exercised or enjoyed by the people of said State, became and remain forfeited and lost to them by reason of their own acts of treason and rebellion aforesaid; and

Whereas, the people and the public authority have been, and still are, disposing of public lands remaining unsettled therein, not only in a reckless and improvident manner, but to persons who have been, and still are, disloyal to the government of the United States, and as rewards for treason and rebellion against the same; and

Whereas, the people and public authority of said district, in defiance of all law, municipal and divine, have and are still committing every species of violence and outrage upon each other, and more particularly upon Union men and Freedmen; and

Whereas, said District of Texas has been, and is now, the refuge of desperadoes and lawless characters and criminals, so that the very name, by which that country is recognized and named throughout all lands, is suggestive of the penal colony of the world,—the name and history thereof indicating little else than bloodshed, ingratitude, violence and wrong:

Therefore, to the end that the political power and public dominion thereof may not further strengthen the hands and advance the purposes of those who hitherto have been and now are most active, untiring and malignant, foes of liberty and Union, and with a view to a speedy settlement of the entire region of said District with a loyal people,—

(The resolutions proceed to provide for the division of Texas into four Territories, to be called respectively Brazona, Bravo, Sabine and Lincoln: and that when they shall each have the requisite population and shall have adopted a Constitution, by the votes of all males over 21 years of age, Republican in form, and also the Howard amendment, they shall be represented in Congress, upon the members elect taking the test oath, &c.)

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and it has this great advantage over other Ague medicines, that it subdues the complaint without injury to the patient. SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctor and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following.

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER, Notary Public, Wall Street, New York.

U. S.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I tried it. I can not some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS, 116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY, 27 Pitt Street.

New York, April 7, 1865.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 21, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY, 119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals.

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

J. MAGGIEL, M. D.

P. F. PESCUD AGENT FOR RALEIGH, FOR MAGGIEL'S PILLS AND SALVE.

NOTICE.—None genuine without the engraved trademark around each pot or box, signed by Dr. J. Maggiel, 41 Pine Street, New York, to counterfeit which is felony.

RANDOLPH MACON COLLEGE, VIRGINIA.

IN FULL OPERATION.

THIS TIME-HONORED INSTITUTION IS ONCE more in successful operation, with a FULL CORPS OF PROFESSORS. The chairs of the several schools are filled by able and experienced men. There are five literary and scientific schools, viz: of ANCIENT LANGUAGES, MATHEMATICS, CHEMISTRY and NATURAL PHILOSOPHY, MORAL PHILOSOPHY and MODERN LANGUAGES. In addition to the above the Board of Trustees have established a school of Commercial Science, with the view of giving to the young men of the country a Business Education.

To graduates in all these schools, Diplomas are granted, and the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts are conferred upon students who accomplish a certain course. The high grade of scholarship formerly required is still maintained. We have a full Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus for the illustration of the subjects taught.

The location of the College is unsurpassed for health and geniality. It is situated midway between the mountains and the seaboard; and during a career of thirty-three years, and with thousands of young men in attendance, there has never been a death arising from malaria or other local cause. We profess to educate young men not only mentally and morally but physically also.

BOARD IS SIXTEEN DOLLARS PER MONTH.

Tuition from $40 to $90, according to the number of schools attended. $250 will cover expenses of board, tickets for three schools, matriculation and contingent fees for ten months.

Rooms in the College free of charge, but the student provides his own furniture, fuel and lights.—Young men who are preparing for the ministry and those disabled by the late war who are unable to pay their tuition, will be allowed to attend any or all of the schools free of charge.

This College is situated near Boydton, the county seat of Mecklenburg county, Va.

Arrangements are made to transport students from Ridgway Depot, on the Raleigh and Weldon Railroad, whilst a conveyance leaves Roanoke station, on the Richmond and Danville Railroad, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and the Wolf Trap Depot, on the same road, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

We solicit a liberal patronage from Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina, from the West, South and Southwest.

Students will be received at any time. The second term will commence on the 6th. day of February next. Young men will be received and prepared for the College proper.

For further particulars address the undersigned at Boydton, Mecklenburg county, Va.

NEAR GREENSBORO', Dec. 17, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—On Saturday night, a heavy sleet fell, which overlaid all nature with ice, from the tiny blade of grass in the glen to the mighty oak in the forest, and on the day following the sky still seemed to be grieving, and refused to wear a bright face, and smile on nature with sunshine; for all the day she kept herself wrapt closely in a gloomy mantle of clouds, although she had ceased to weep icy tears. But this morning all the clouds were gone, and the sun has risen to clothe the earth with splendor, turning the ice-plated trees and shrubs into things of silver. This beautiful scene caused me to remember a fine poem I once laid away among my papers. On reading it this morning, I could not help but wish that all could see it, while the same scene which a glorious Creator has again opened to our view is still fresh in their memories. Here it is:

Sleet Storm.

BY GEO. ST. LEGER CARTER.

Awake! awake! the sun is up, arise and sally forth.
We've had a rain of jewelry from out the frozen North.
The earth is robed in dazzling white, each tree is hung with gems,
And diamonds in ten thousand shapes are hanging from their stems
Each bush and every humble shrub with precious stones is strung,
And all the gayest, brightest things by handfuls round are flung.
The emerald and the amethyst, the topaz: behold,
And here and there a ruby red is sparkling in the cold.
The chrysolite and jasper see, and that bright sardine stone,
The holy Patmos prophet saw upon the Heavenly throne
Here all the gems of Ophir shine, with all Golconda's store,
And who could ever number up the countless myriads more?
The holly in its darkest green with crimson fruit looks gay;
Encased in solid silver too, how rich is its display;
In green and gold the shaggy pine seems almost in a blaze
With all the sun's reflected light, yet softened to the gaze.
The cedar, ah! that favor'd tree, in Scripture, it is told,
They laid thee in the house of God and cover'd thee with gold;
But great as was King Solomon, he nor the house he made
Were dressed in such magnificence as Thou hast here displayed.
The beech tree stands in rich array of long and shining threads,
Its brittle boughs all bending low to earth their drooping heads,
And now and then a broken limb comes crashing from on high,
And showering down a world of gems that sparkle as they fly.
The lofty oak, the hundred limb'd Briareus of the trees,
Spreads out his pondrous, icy arms loud crackling in the breeze,
And as the roused lion shakes the dew drops from his mane,
So does the woodland Monarch shake his crystals o'er the plain.
But time would fail to tell of all the bright and starry host,
The North wind brings to witch the world out of the realms of frost;
The meanest thing, the most deformed, the dry and sapless bough,
The bramble and the rugged thorn, are pure and spotless now
Ye counsellors of earth, come forth, ye princes who have gold,
Your diadems, ye kings bring here, the Jewel'd crowns ye hold,
Come woman in thy ornaments, in all their costly sheen,
And let them be the loveliest ones that ever graced a Queen.
This grass that a trodden under foot, this weed with branching arms,
Thus glittering in the morning sun, hath fifty fold your charms;
Then cast your baubles vile away, and bend in solemn thought,
To Him who hath this gorgeous scene from storm and tempest wrought.
Yet this fair pageant soon must fade before the breath of noon,
And by the fiat from on high, your wealth shall fade as soon;
Oh! lay not worthless riches up which moth and rust assail,
But those which at the Judgment day through Christ will then avail.
What tho' the sun so soon must melt this frost-work and its forms,
He speaks them into life again who rides amid the storms;
So in the twinkling of an eye, at His last trumpet dread,
Our bodies fashioned gloriously shall rise up from the dead
The sun goes up his destined way, how few do heed my calls,
In tears the vision melts away, the baseless fabric falls
I too could shed some tears, alas! that this sweet scene is past,
For scenes as sweet it brings to mind, which fled away as fast.

The President's Views and Opinions

A special Washington dispatch to the Sun says:

Since the President submitted his annual message to Congress on the 3d. instant, his views and opinions upon the political situation, and the proposed amendments to the Constitution, have undergone no change. That he does not favor these amendments is notorious, and he does not hesitate to express his disapproval of them on all possible occasions; but he has not, neither in his official or private capacity, attempted to interfere with the free action of any of the States upon the question. He deems the fate of the amendments, at least in their present form, as already effectually determined by the action of the Southern States; and he does not regard the threat of territorializing those States as cause of serious alarm, since there is good reason for believing that should the proposed territorial bill be enacted into the form of law, the Supreme Court would, upon an agreed case presented for decision, at once decide the bill null and void.

The New York Herald unites with the Washington Chronicle in calling upon Congress to reconstruct the Supreme Court, so as to secure more free and easy interpretations of the Constitution. What tremendous strides these converts from pro-slavery flunkeyism make, indeed! Abolitionists of the old school cannot begin to keep up with them. But why stop with the Supreme Court? Let us have all courts abolished, and then we can go ahead just as we please, and "devil take the hindmost."—Springfield Republican.

Mr. Chase's refusal to grant a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Dr. Mudd was no doubt because he considered the Supreme Court has not original jurisdiction. Such cases ought to come up by way of appeal.
